Luke 5:1-11

“The idea of a great moral teacher saying what Christ said is out of the question. We may note in passing that He was never regarded as a mere moral teacher. He did not produce that effect on any of the people who actually met Him. He produced mainly three effects—Hatred -Terror -Adoration. There was no trace of people expressing mild approval.” CS Lewis

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Does your view of Jesus mess with your lifestyle?
2. What did God do in your life that finally got your full attention?
3. What are some areas of personal strength that you need to surrender to Christ?
4. What are some areas that you struggle trusting Christ with?

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

One day as Jesus was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret, with the people crowding around him and listening to the word of God, he saw at the water's edge two boats, left there by the fishermen, who were washing their nets. He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little from shore. Then he sat down and taught the people from the boat.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

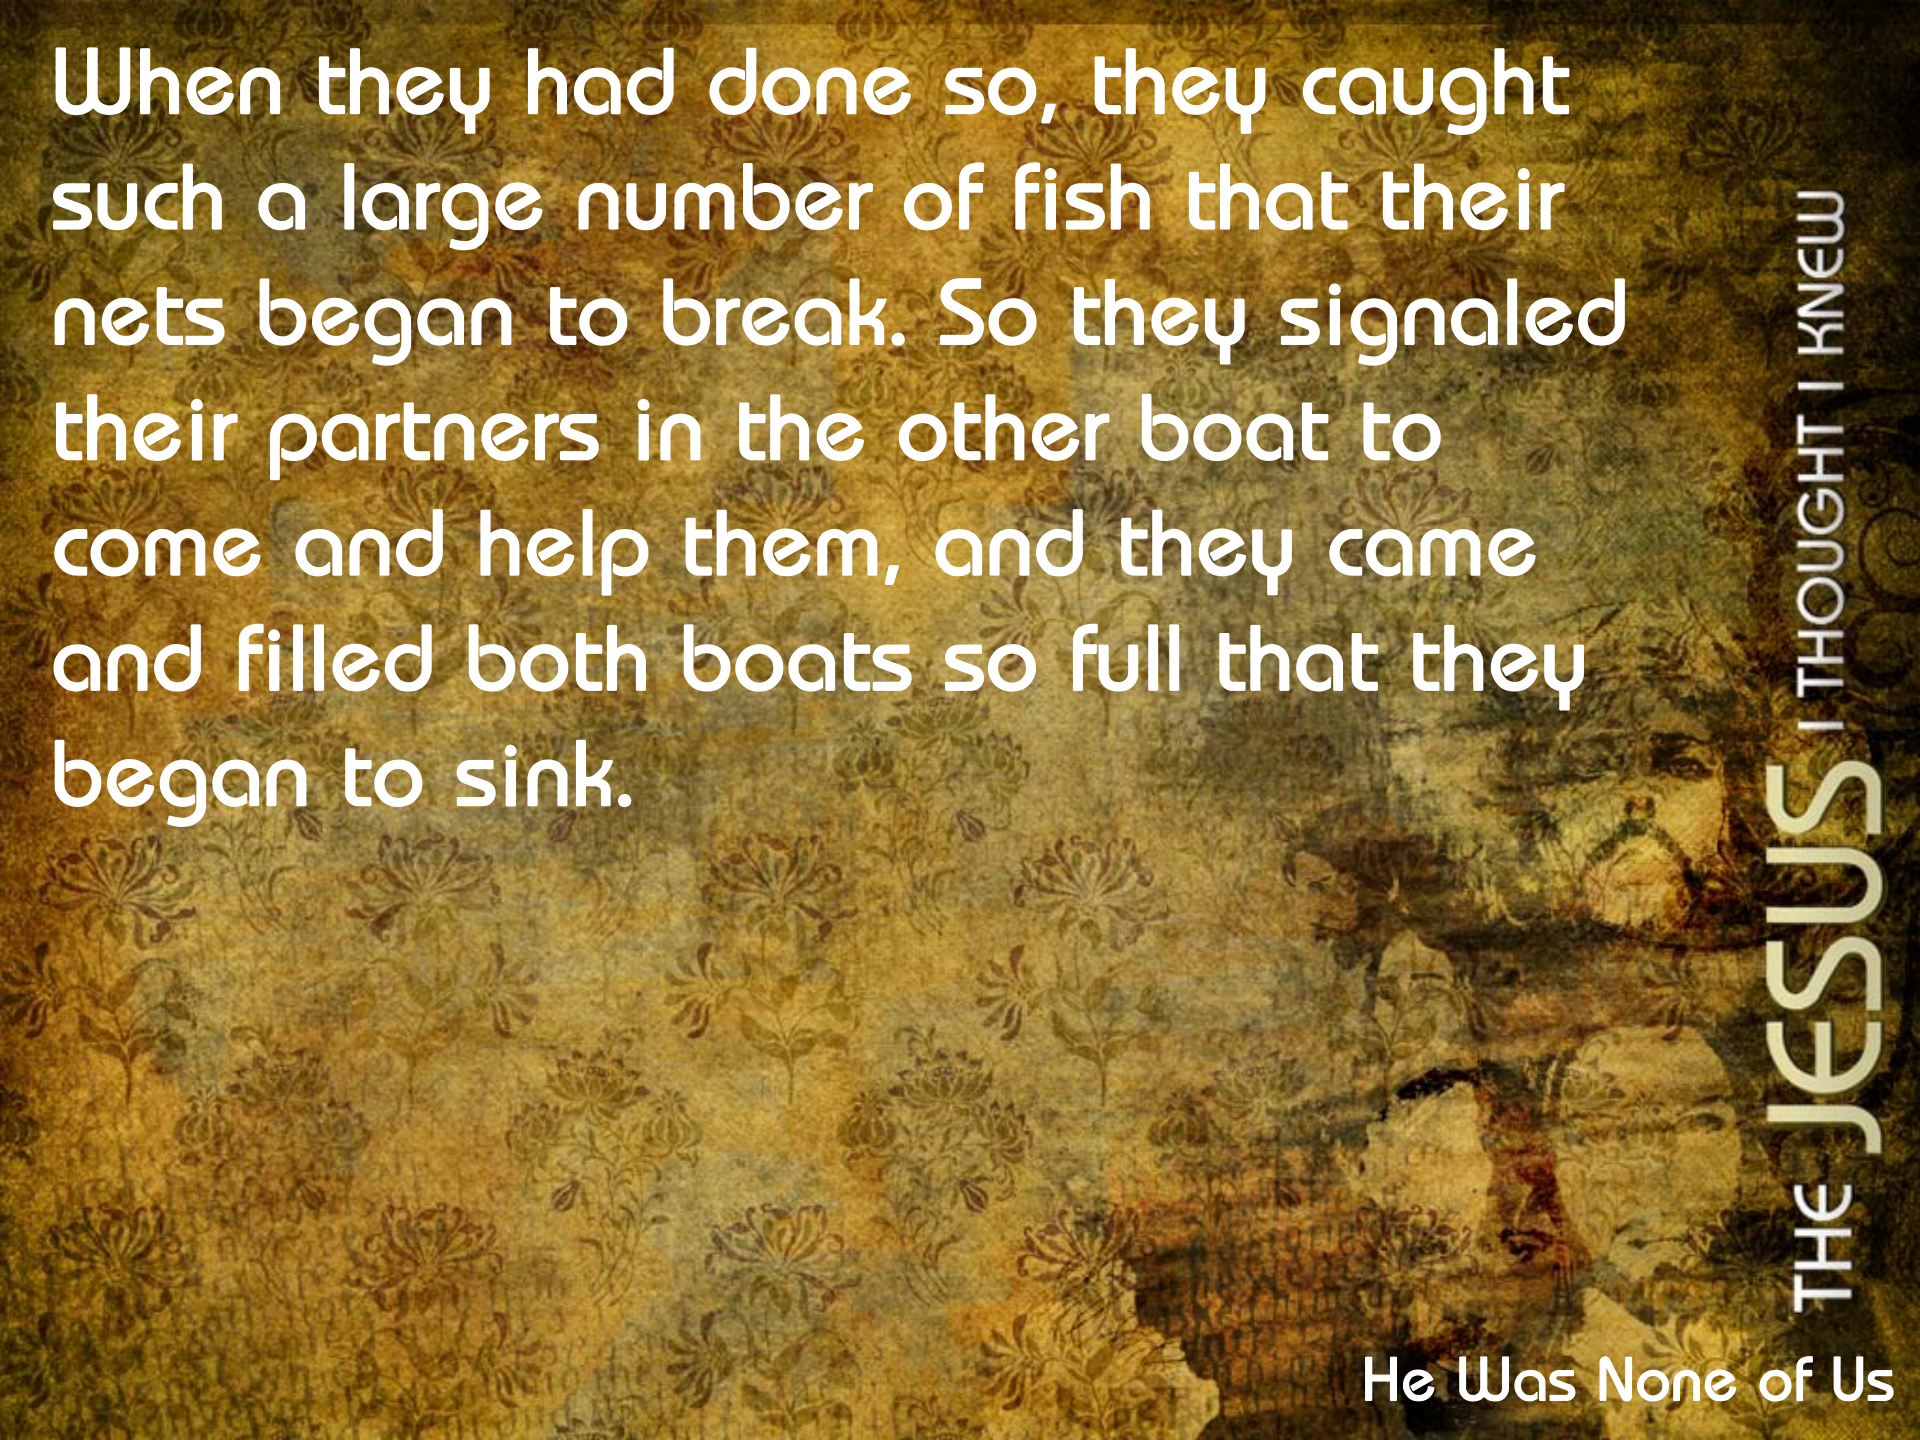

He Was None of Us

When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into deep water, and let down the nets for a catch."

Simon answered, "Master, we've worked hard all night and haven't caught anything. But because you say so, I will let down the nets."

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

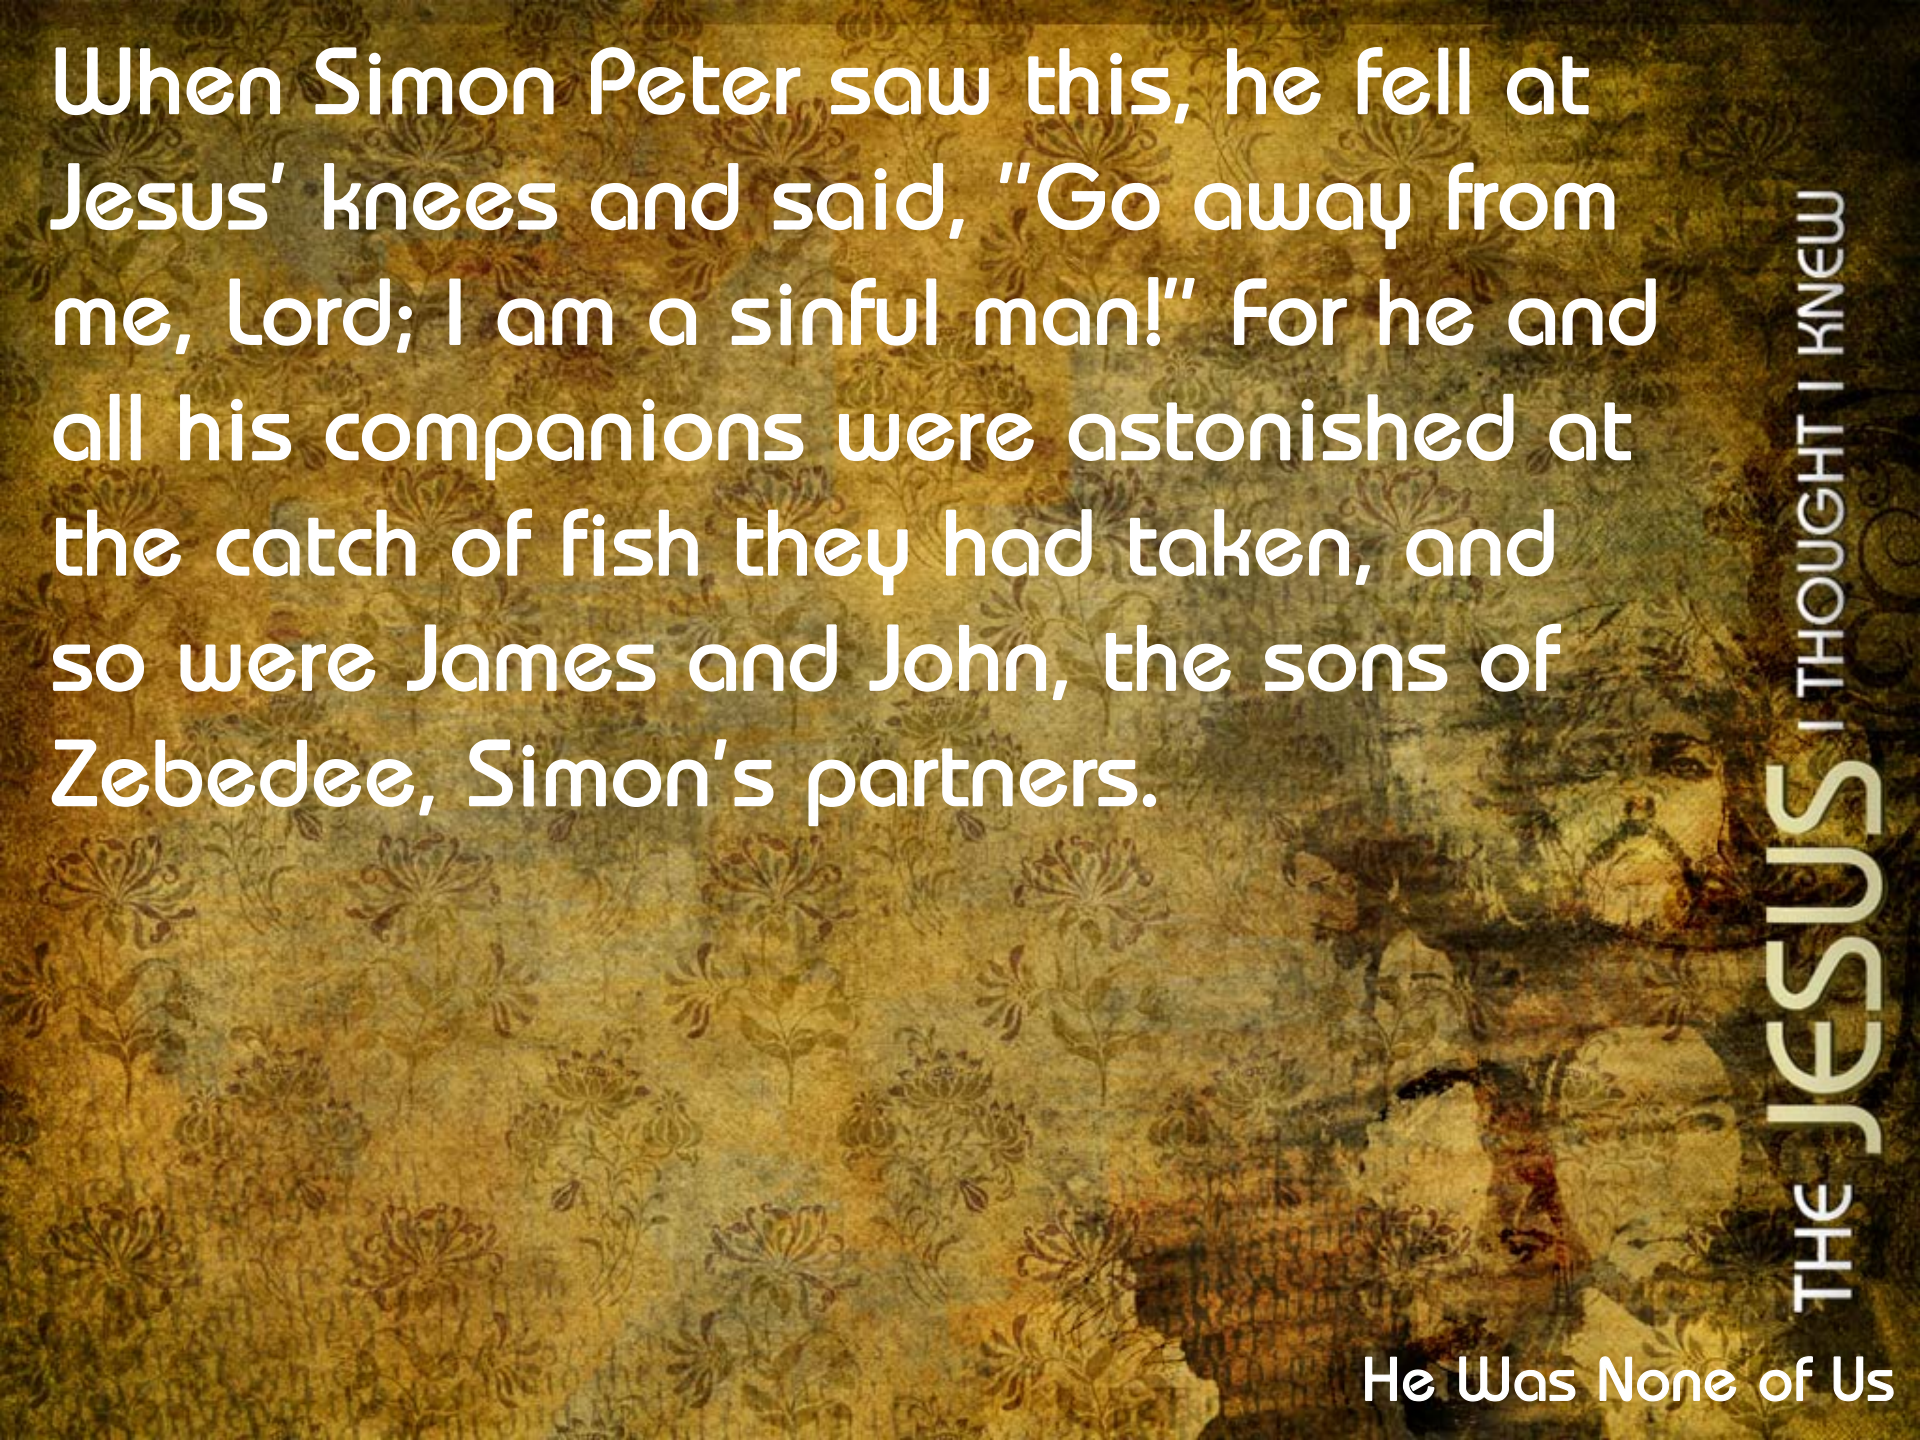

He Was None of Us

When they had done so, they caught such a large number of fish that their nets began to break. So they signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them, and they came and filled both boats so full that they began to sink.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

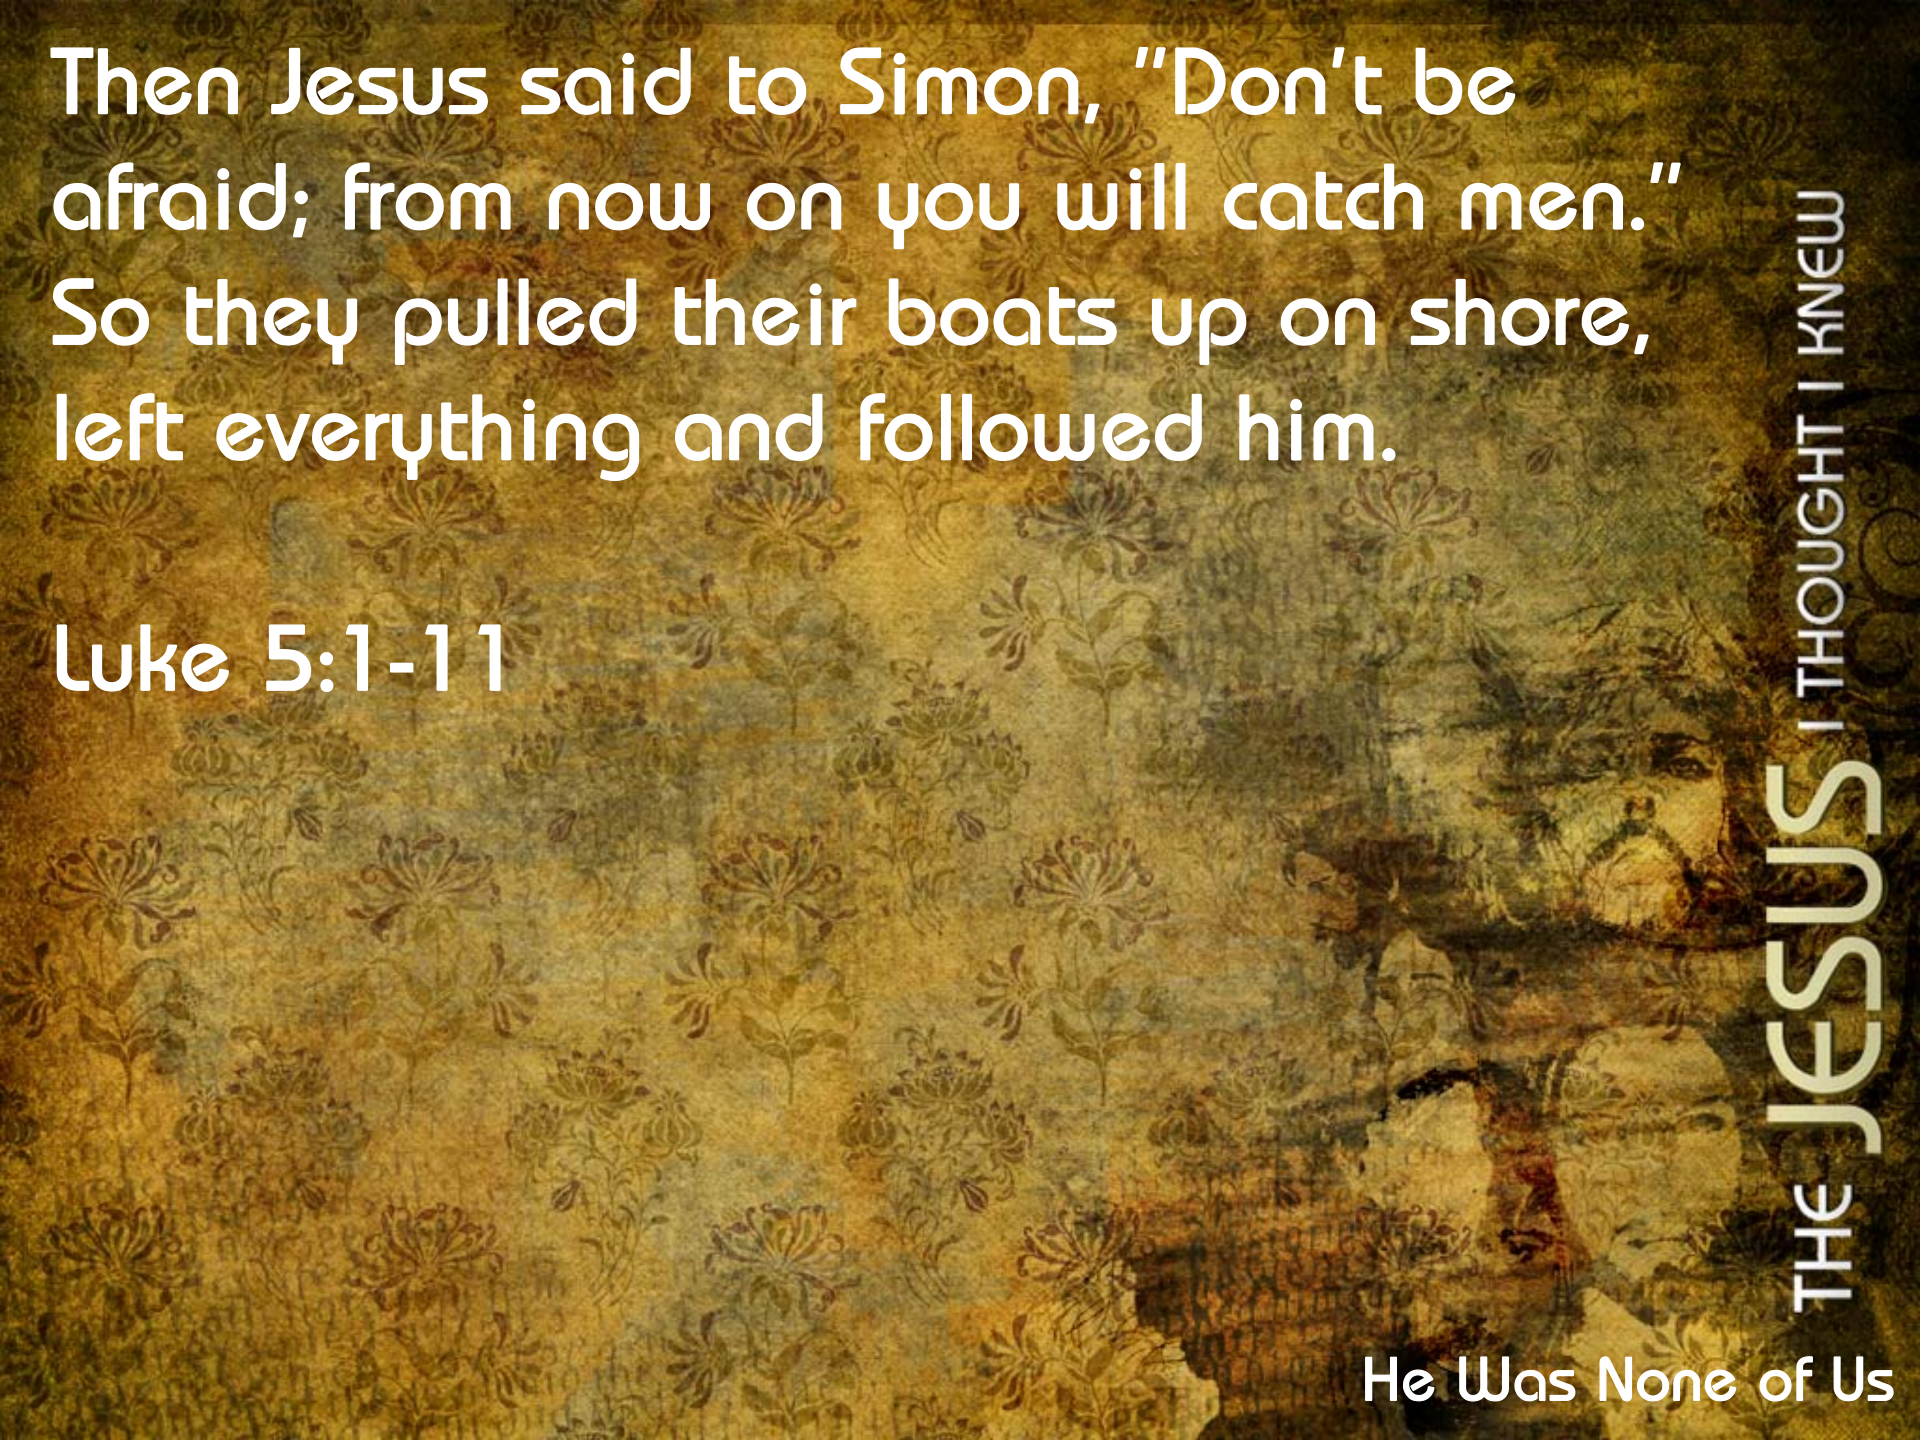

He Was None of Us

When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at Jesus' knees and said, "Go away from me, Lord; I am a sinful man!" For he and all his companions were astonished at the catch of fish they had taken, and so were James and John, the sons of Zebedee, Simon's partners.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

He Was None of Us

Then Jesus said to Simon, "Don't be afraid; from now on you will catch men." So they pulled their boats up on shore, left everything and followed him.

Revelation requires a response.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

Two Revelations:

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

He Was None of Us

Two Revelations:

Scripture is the revelation of Jesus Christ.

Two Revelations:

Scripture is the revelation of Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ reveals the Father.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

He Was None of Us

The son of God who takes away the sins of the world. I wish I could believe in that. Thats a great idea, no denying it. Such great hope is wonderful, even though it is close to lunacy, in my view. Christ has his rank among the worlds great thinkers. But Son of God, isnt that farfetched?

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

He Was None of Us

No, its not farfetched to me. Look, the secular response to the Christ story always goes like this: he was a great prophet, obviously a very interesting guy, had a lot to say along the lines of other great prophets, be they Elijah, Muhammad, Buddha, or Confucius. But actually Christ doesnt allow you that. He doesnt let you off that hook.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

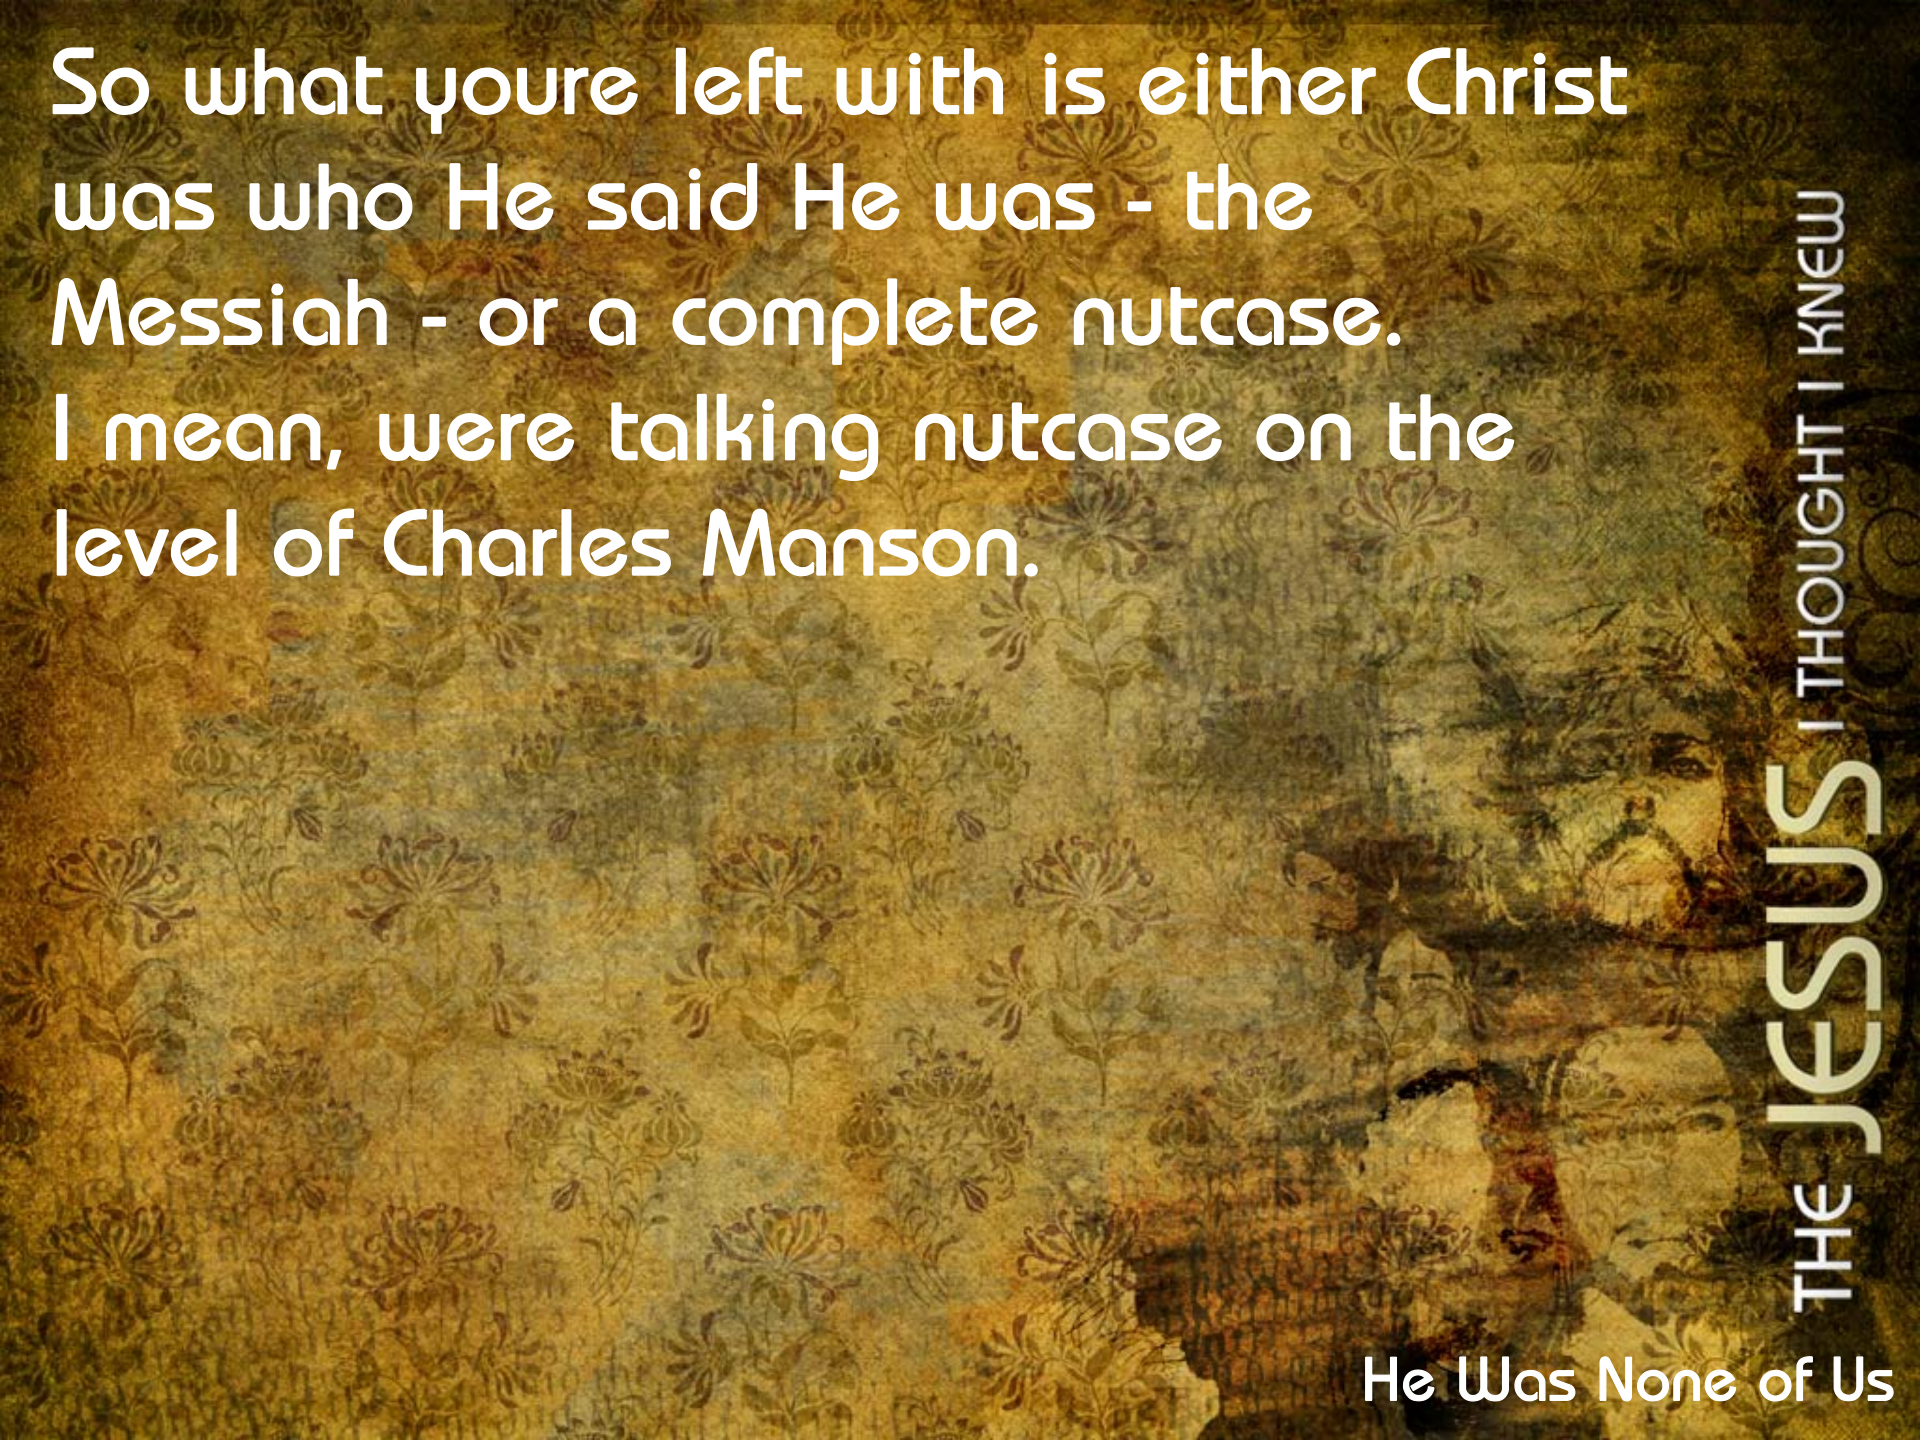

He Was None of Us

Christ says, No. I'm not saying I'm a teacher, dont call me teacher. I'm not saying I'm a prophet. I'm saying:
"I am the Messiah." I'm saying:
"I am God incarnate.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

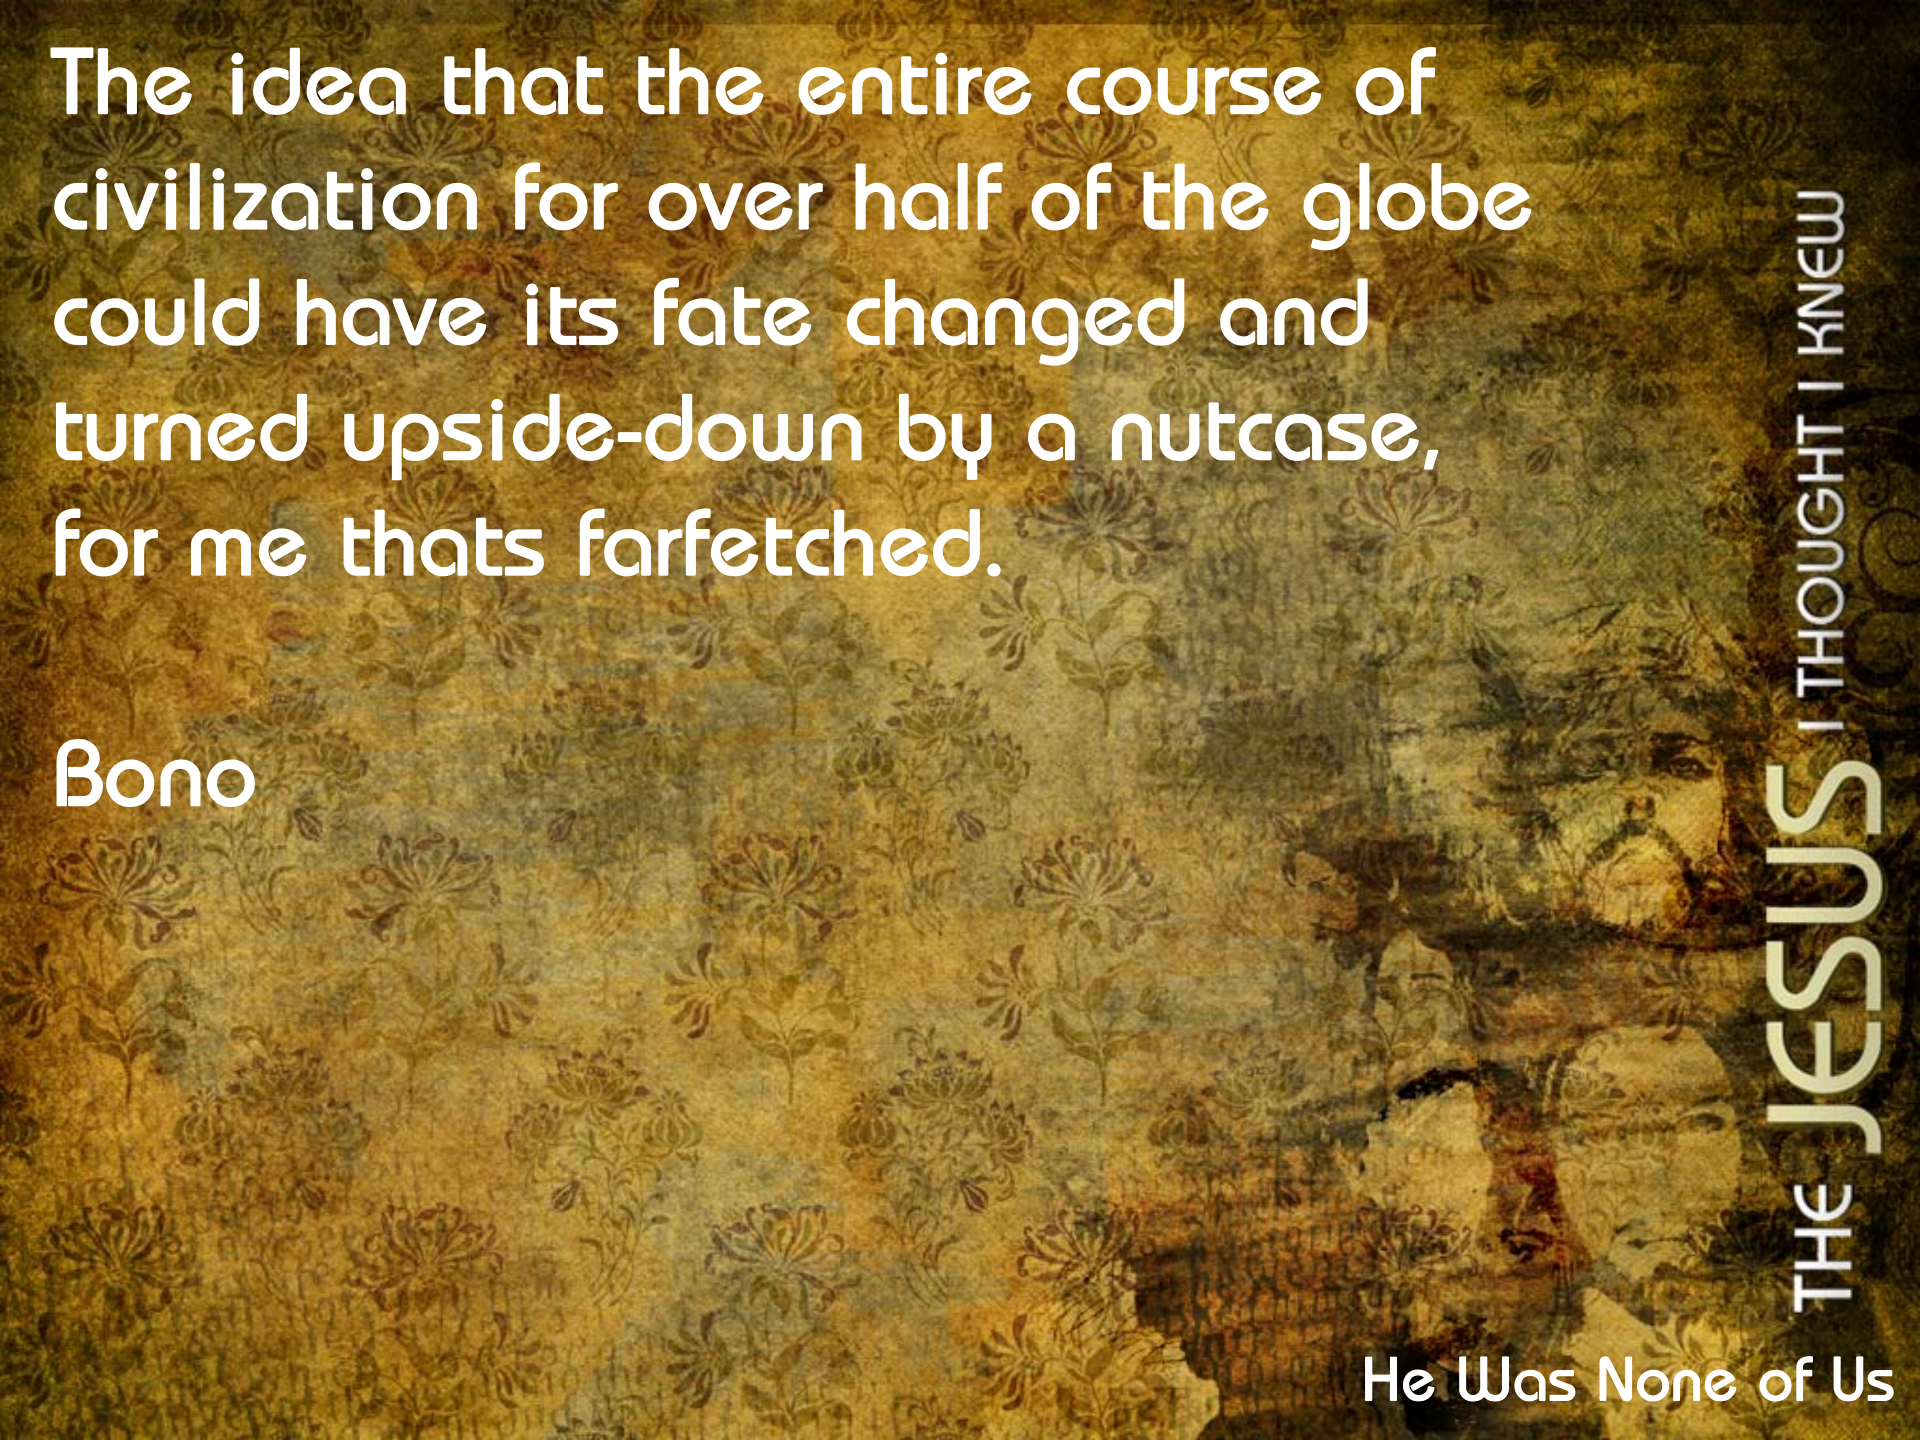

He Was None of Us

So what youre left with is either Christ was who He said He was - the Messiah - or a complete nutcase.
I mean, were talking nutcase on the level of Charles Manson.

THE JESUS I THOUGHT I KNEW

He Was None of Us

The idea that the entire course of civilization for over half of the globe could have its fate changed and turned upside-down by a nutcase, for me that's farfetched.
